PESKY NEIGHBORS DRIVE MAN TO TALL UNCUT

Joe Forter, who has been driving a transfer wagon for White & McCune, for a number of months, failed to show up at the usual hour for work with his team, the other morning, and it soon became known to his employers that "Frenchy," as he was familiarly called, had decamped for the north on a night train, without even saying goodbye to his wife.

"Frenchy" kept the team that was entrusted to his care at his home in the northeastern suburbs of the city, across the railroad tracks, and it was found there all right the next morning.

Just why "Frenchy" should have taken such a sudden and unceremonious leave of Las Vegas is a mystery to his friends. It is generally thought, however, by those who ought to know, that he had grown tired of the encroachments on his little family circle. The larder was kept nearly empty continually by neighbors, friends and relatives of his wife, and "Frenchy" seems to have entered his protest in vain. He was willing to support his own family and a few outsiders, but he called a halt at buying provisions for the entire neighborhood.

"Frenchy" was married to a native woman some years ago and they appeared to live happily enough together when left alone.

HEAVY DOWNPOUR FLOODS STREETS OF LAS VEGAS

The usual afternoon shower today was a little heavier than usual and besides laying the dust, the rain will help crops in Las Vegas and its vicinity. The downpour was especially heavy on the mesa and up the canyon. This year the rainy season has set in about a month later than heretofore, as July is usually the month of rain in New Mexico. Today's rain was accompanied by considerable lightning and thunder but no damage is reported from this source.

Two things that sticketh closer than a brother are a porous plaster and a creditor.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glasgow came to the city from Colfax this afternoon.

Washington's Plague Spots. Lie in the low, marshy bottoms of the Potomac, the breeding ground of malaria germs. These germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility and bring suffering and death to thousands yearly. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "They are the best all-round tonic and cure for malaria I ever used," writes R. M. James of Louellen, S. C. They cure stomach, liver, kidney and blood troubles and will prevent typhoid. Try them, 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.
